Volunteer Appreciation Event a Slam Dunk!

LBC volunteers recently descended on a Moncton Miracles game. Read more below!

BASKETBALL BONANZA!

by Sarah Moss

On Saturday, January 19 ninety of our faithful volunteers descended on the Moncton Coliseum for an evening of food, fun and basketball. The evening began with a pre-game VIP party in the Legends Restaurant, where we were able to enjoy hanging out with friends and snacking on copious amounts of pizza and munchies. Jennifer Hoyt was the lucky recipient of the Grand Prize, an overnight stay for two at the Falconridge B&B in Alma.

The main event of the night was the basketball game between the Moncton Miracles and the Oshawa Power which we watched from court side seats. Four of our volunteers were even chosen to take part in the fan participation game of musical chairs. The LBC fans were enthusiastic, and certain folks among us were even told by other ticket holders to come back every game because we make it so much more fun! The game was a close contest, made even more exciting by the chance to watch the game with friends. And best of all, Moncton won the game, 102-95!!

By all reports it was a great night enjoyed by all. Many thanks to all volunteers for your faithfulness and willingness to be "here to serve"! If you would like to volunteer in any capacity here at LBC, visit the website and click on "How do I volunteer?" or fill our your Connect Card on Sunday morning!

TURNS OUT THERE IS SUCH A THING AS A FREE LUNCH.

FAMILY FUN DAY!

Saturday, February 16

This is an event for all ages! If you attend LBC we'd love to see you come on out on Saturday, February 16th from 1-4pm for some outdoor fun and board games! We'll be sledding on the hill behind the St. Louis-de-France Catholic Church on Pleasant Street (weather permitting), and then back to the church for munchies and games! WHAT TO BRING: a sled, your favourite board game, munchies to share, your family.

NOTE: If the weather conditions are not appropriate for sledding we'll still be at the church for family games.

RECIPE CORNER

Maple Bundt Cake (Esther Jolicoeur)

It isn't maple syrup season yet...but this cake was so delicious, I had to share right away. Thank you Martha Stewart!

Ingredients

- 2 cups all-purpose flour, plus more for dusting
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1-1/2 sticks (12 tablespoons) unsalted butter, room temperature, plus more for pan
- 1/2 cup packaged dark-brown sugar
- 2 large eggs
- 1/2 cup plus 2 tablespoons pure maple syrup, plus more for drizzling
- 2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract
- 1 cup sour cream (I used plain yogurt - full fat, of course)
- 1/2 cup heavy cream

Directions

1. Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Butter a 10-inch Bundt pan. Dust with flour, and tap out excess.
2. Whisk together flour, baking powder, baking soda, and salt.
3. In a separate bowl, beat butter and sugar with a mixer on medium-high speed until fluffy, 3 to 4 minutes.
4. Add eggs, 1 at a time, beating well after each addition.
5. Beat in 1/2 cup maple syrup and the vanilla.
6. Add flour mixture in 3 additions, alternating with the sour cream, beating until just combined after each addition.
7. Scrape batter into prepared pan. Bake until golden brown and a toothpick inserted into centre of cake comes out clean, 35 to 40 minutes.
8. Let cool in pan on a wire rack for 15 minutes. Invert onto rack to cool completely.
9. Just before serving, beat cream with a mixer or a whisk until soft peaks form. Add 2 tablespoons maple syrup, and beat until soft peaks return. Spoon whipped cream over cake, and drizzle with maple syrup. Serve immediately. (I didn't have any whipped cream on hand, so I warmed up some maple syrup and drizzled it over each piece I served)

Usually a mixed playlist on my iPod. Currently, it contains Mumford & Sons, Coldplay, Tegan and Sarah and Taylor Swift (we all have our guilty pleasures).

What is one thing/activity you love that people might not know about you?

I wear glorified pyjamas to work everyday so, although I have almost nowhere to wear them, I love getting shoes...pumps, sandals, wedges...all of it.

What is the best/funniest/favorite memory from your childhood?

The time my sister Kimber fell backwards into the deep freeze while trying to reach something at the bottom and got stuck. I was the only one home to help her. I ran and got my camera and took a picture first.

I guess He has been working on me trusting His timing. I have a love/hate relationship with waiting for an answer from Him. I'm just trying to build the love part and dismantle the hate part.

GIANT YARD SALE

Saturday, March 9

After a break last year, Lewisville's March Break tradition is back for 2013. That's right, we're hosting a Giant Yard Sale on Saturday, March 9 from 8am-2pm!

If you have donations to supply to the yard sale, start gathering them up and you can bring them in to the church office during office hours the week of March 4 to 8. (Sorry, we can't accept donations any sooner, nor can we accept clothing donations.)

It takes many hands to run an event like this, and if you'd like to help in any way we'd love to have you! You can simply fill out your Connect Card on Sunday morning to indicate your availability or contact the church office to let us know. DJ Moore is co-ordinating this event and she tells us there are lots of jobs to do, from sorting and setting up during the week preceding the big day, to workers for the day itself. We'll also be holding a bake sale as part of this fundraiser, so we also need your delicious goodies to be donated!

Proceeds of this year's Giant Yard Sale will be going to support both of our upcoming missions trips to Guatemala and Haiti.

GIVING IN 2013

Can We Count You In?

As has been outlined on Sundays and discussed in detail at our recent Annual General Meeting, this is a big season financially for Lewisville. We made some enormous and praise-worthy strides in 2012, but as they say, "we're not home yet". Our mission is bigger than human hands can carry, so we depend on every single person who counts themselves part of this church family to open their hearts and hands before God and see what he'd have them do.

If you'd like to receive offering envelopes, or better yet, sign up for automatic withdrawal "e-giving", just indicate it on our your Connect Card this Sunday, or contact the church office throughout the week.
